

Demonstration Project on Castor Oil Refining in Indonesia

Kokura Synthetic Industries, Ltd.

Kitakyushu: “Support for the development of environmental business in Asia of small- and mid-sized companies”
(FY2012) 65

Kokura Synthetic Industries produces castor oil-related products in Japan but has come under pressure from cheap imports from countries such as India. In order to overcome this situation, the company is transferring its castor oil refining techniques and production techniques to Indonesia, where it will conduct overseas development of castor oil produced more cheaply than in Japan but with the same level of quality, under the Kokura Synthetic Industries brand.
